

TREASURE KINGDOM DISCOVERY GATEWAY TO DISCOVERING YOUR IDENTITY AND RISE TO YOUR FULL POTENTIAL

DAY 10: WALKING IN YOUR VICTORY

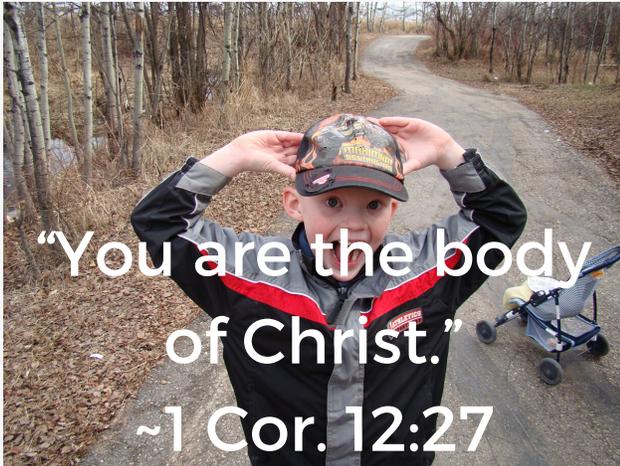

There are many times in our lives that we allow our lives to become distracted. When you focus on other people and what they are doing, you invite jealousy and enviousness into your life. These distract you from your goal and can stop you in your tracks.

"I'm fine." She pushes aside the frustration, confusion, and guilt that is bombarding her right now. He always seems so overprotective. She hates the fact that he's there for everyone. He's not perfect, but some days, Senora feels so jealous of him. Everything seems to come easily for him. Why do things seem so hard for me?

He wants them all to get along and stop fighting, but it never seems to happen that way. He gets so jealous of her sometimes; being the middle child in the family, he feels that he is the most forgotten.

When you start to compare yourself to other people, you lose sight of your own strengths. God created you with different strengths. We are all one body and like the body, we live to serve different functions. "For just as the body is one and has many members, and all the members of the body, though many, are one Spirit we are all baptized into one body-Jews or Greeks, slaves or free,-and all were made to drink of one Spirit. For the body does not consist of one member but many. If the foot should say, "Because I am not a hand, I do not belong to the body," that would not make it any less a part of the body. And if the ear should say, "Because I am not an eye, I do not belong to the body," that would not make it any less a part of the body. If the whole body were an eye, where would be the sense of hearing? If the whole body were an ear, where would be the sense of smell? But as it is, "God arranged the members in the body, each one of them, as he chose. If all were a single member, where would the body be? As it is, there are many parts, yet one body." 1 Corinthians 12:12-20.

Every part of the body is needed to function well. You are needed and your strengths can be used to glorify God. Kary Oberbrunner says: "Someone somewhere in the world is wishing they were you. Someone in the world would be dying to be in your shoes. You see, in life many of us can become ungrateful, and can become dissatisfied and bitter when we think about what we don't have. Wishing we were somebody else defeats the purpose of God creating us. God created you for a reason, embrace that today. Remember there was someone who woke up today wish they were you." Be grateful for who you are.

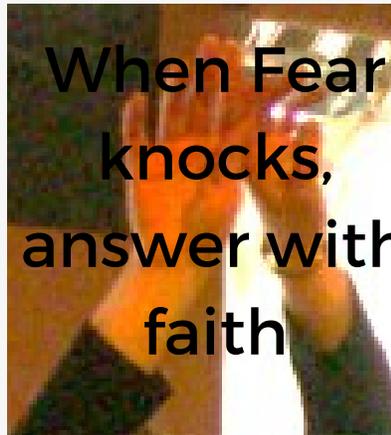

We are more than conquerors; through Christ we have the victory. We can walk in the freedom that God has already won the ultimate battle. Watch this next video and focus on your strengths. It is your choice. Never stop dreaming, but I challenge you to take the next step, embrace the pain on the journey and come out stronger.

What choice will you make? What are your strengths? List them below.

Now is the time! Time to stop allowing fear to rule your life, stop allowing others to dictate to you who they think you should be. The choice is yours; use the gifts and talents that God has given you. How can you glorify God with your actions and your words? Take the first step to freedom and start embracing who you are.

Tomorrow we start a new section called the Voice of Fear.
